Many colorful things take

Fall is a happy and colorful time around Mid High. Things are happening so fast you hardly have enough time to take in one event before something else is happening. This year the Student Council painted trash cans, Mrs. McAlister's chorus students prepared a variety show and we have our annual costume contest on Halloween and added a Carve a Pumpkin Contest to the list of events.

School's in session but summer's still here too

That happy and relaxed feeling you get during the summer is hard to get rid of once you're back in school. The school bell may have rung for another year but the calendar and the temperature still says its time to be outdoors enjoying the warm sunshine. Whether between classes or at home after school, Mid High students just sort of lay back and take things a little bit easy during those first few weeks after classes begin. Above left, Keith Taylor pauses between classes with some of his new friends. Sophomore Mark Streander passes his free time after school on his skateboard. Spending a couple of hours each afternoon, Mark skates several miles and practices several different skating tricks in the photos above right and right. Lunch time at Mid High provides a moment of relaxation during those first days back from summer vacation as Jeri Austin and Todd Hveem visit the concession stand in the bottom left photo. Mrs. McAlister's choir students take a few minutes in the sunshine after class in the bottom right photo. After an entire summer, it's rather difficult to get the vocal cords back in shape. It may be time to go back to school but students are going to try and prolong that good summer feeling just as long as they can. Soon the serious business of homework and tests will take over and its another school year back in full swing.

Tigers have a warmer Homecoming in '77

Playing the Highland Hornets and with Homecoming during the month of October, the Tigers had things a bit warmer this year. Warmer because the weather was nicer but also because even though Alamogordo came out on top, the final score was 15-14. Those kind of games are too close for anyone's comfort.

Participation in some Tiger Week activities is at best minimal. But the one day that most everyone likes to dress for is 50's day or what could be called Happy Days. The nostalgia of the 50's seems uppermost in a great many minds of what could be called the Good Ole Days

Above the concession stand got in the swing of things on 50's day by lowering the prices of soft drinks and popcorn not quite all the way down to the 50's prices of a nickel a coke but almost. Soft drinks went for a dime and popcorn for 15 cents. The prices were good enough to lure plenty of customers as five times the normal amount of popcorn was sold on that day. Dick Clark's style of music drifted through the halls between classes on Thursday and bottom left, English teacher, Dave Olsen dragged out his older clothes for the day. Bottom right, Stacey Berry and Cindy Moss show us what bobby-socks and rolled blue jeans looked like in the 50's

Those days are gone and while Star Wars may be burning up the box offices in 1977, the best picture of the year in 1957 was The Bridge on the River Kwai with Alec Guinness and Joanne Woodward the best stars in town

Tiger Week

Tiger Week always brings forth many activities for Mid High students and faculty to participate in. The theme of this year's parade was Don't Step on a Tiger. Mr. Hansen's NJHS students produced a prize winning float in the form of a Converse tennis shoe. Above left: Driver's Education and not the Dead End Kids as it may appear dressed up for 50's Day. At left, Mrs. Fortney shows us her 50's style of clothing. Annual Staff members are all decked out for T-shirt Day. Shirts ranged from plain white to the more extravagant ones as shown in the photo above.

Mr. Hansen and his National Junior Honor Society students work hard to put the finishing touches on their float in the photo above. Above right other Mid High students are decked out in all kinds of T shirts. Pictured sitting are Randy Cawthon, Mary Alice Cooper, Cheryl Louder, Wilinagail Lakey and Reynea Greer. Standing are Johnny Morgan, Richard Nielsen, Shelly Avery, Susan Blackstone and Dianna Figueroa. A fancy Tiger stands on the back of one of the many floats as it passes by in the annual Tiger Week parade, at right

Outstanding bands perform at Homecoming

Putting in their traditional appearances at the Homecoming festivities were the Tiger Band from the Senior High School and our own Mid High School Band. These students have practiced long hours and are always enjoyed by the crowd as they march along Tenth Street during the annual Homecoming parade

Above right, the Tiger Band is approaching the mid point of the parade route at the corner of Tenth and Hawaii. The band passes by, at right, playing a marching song with colorful miniature tigers draped over the sousaphones. Twirler Elizabeth Luna performs with the Tiger Band at half-time ceremonies prior to announcing the Homecoming Queen. Opposite page top, the members of the Mid High Band perform with the students from Senior High School at half-time. Opposite page, center left, the Mid High Band is the first entry from MHS in the Homecoming parade. Opposite page, center right, Drum Major Janet Saucedo directs the Mid High Band as it performs on the field. Opposite page, bottom left, twirler, Mary Gschwind performs with a special lighted baton while other members of the Mid High Band perform in the bottom right photo

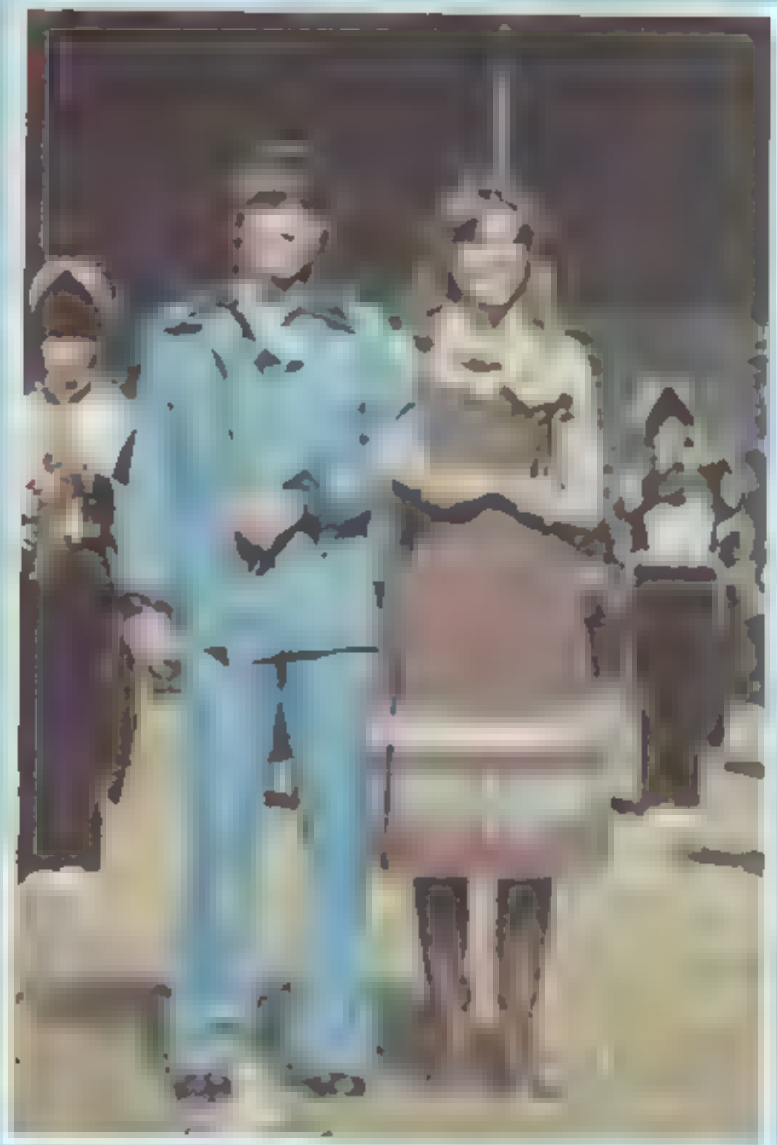

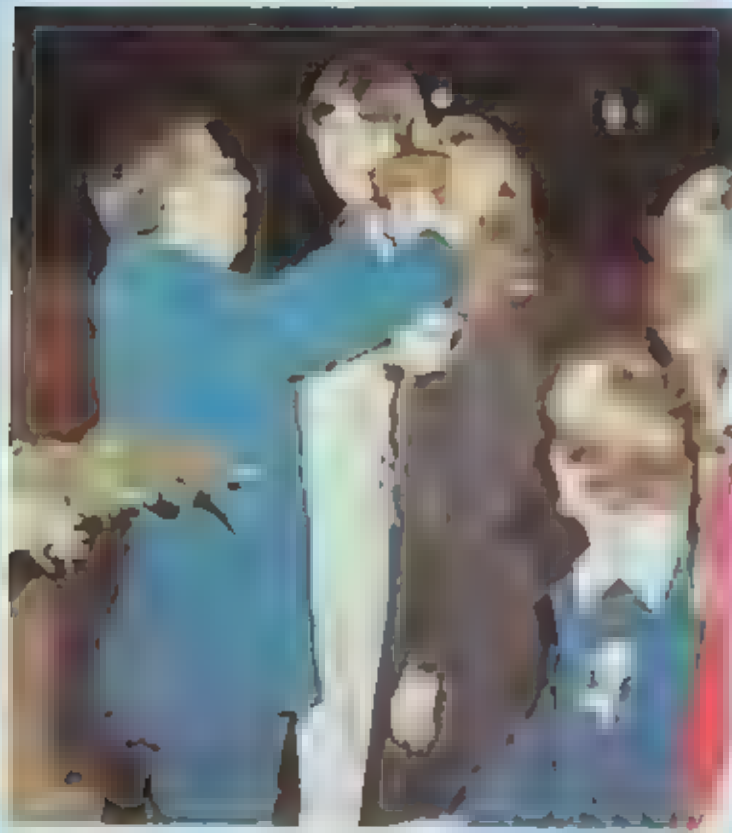

Royalty is presented at half-time

Being chosen to represent your school as a Homecoming Princess is an honor for any young lady. This year the lucky girls from Mid-High were Sophomore Tammy Maupin and Freshman Lorrie Pruett.

and Kenny Wentze. Kneeling: Terrie Odom, Janet Shevir, Kathy Brackeen, and Cheryl Anderson.

Sophomores win eight of ten, for 77 season

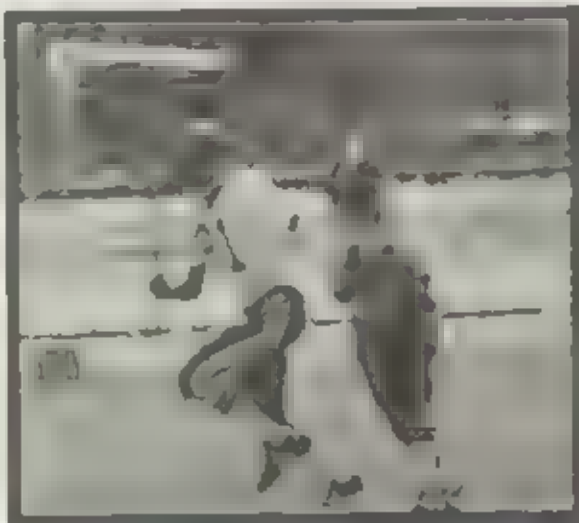

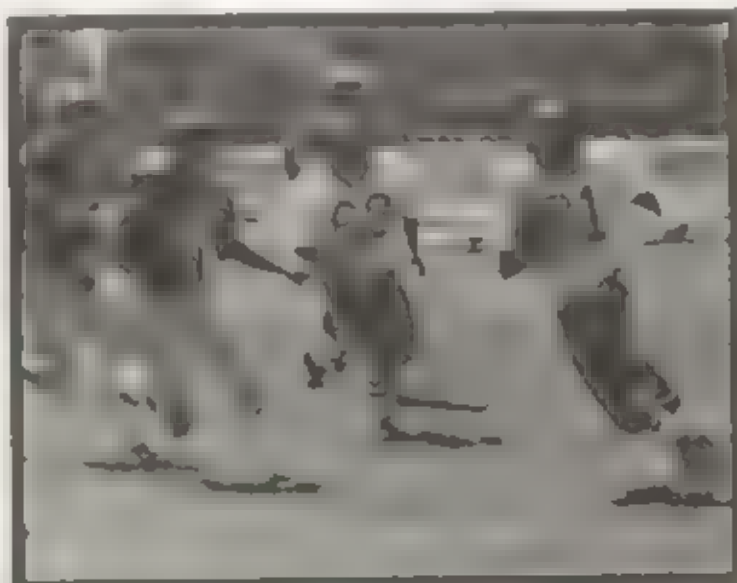

The Sophomore football team started out with a bang this year as they defeated the Deming Junior Varsity with a 41-0 score. Only in two games had the Sophomores lost, scoring six points against Roswell in a 32-6 game and to Silver City in a very close game that ended in a 2-0 win for Silver City.

The team came bouncing right back, however, for the next six games beating every opponent in sight. They finished their season with an 8 and 2 record which definitely put them on top for a winning season.

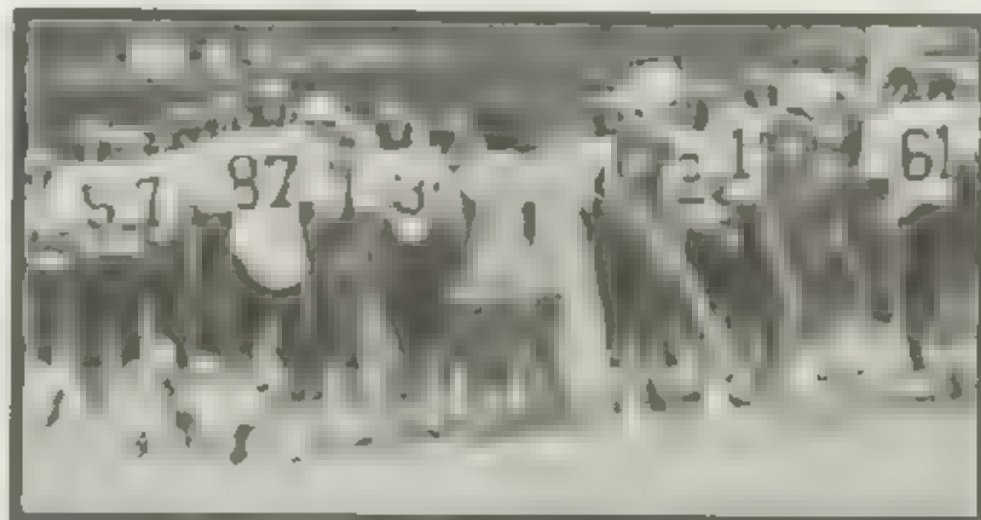

Mike Black is getting set for a snap from John Vega in a close up of action on the field in the opposite page left photo. Opposite page top right are the Tight Ends for the Sophomores. Left to right, Keith Whitam, #83, John Kalina, #93, Mike Garrett, #85, Fernie Trujillo, #49, and Daniel Miranda, #95. Lee Shaffer is proud of the fumble he has just recovered in the 23 to 0 win over Goddard in the opposite page middle photo. Opposite page, bottom left, the Split Ends are shown. Top row, left to right, David Burton, #45, Calvin Dilworth, #87, Steve Diehl, #31, Larry Gilbert, #42. Bottom row, Rudy Luevas, #91, James Peterson, #81, Dennis Crummins, #97, Chris Gonzales, #27, and Robert Torres, #47. Opposite page bottom right Steve Diehl is struggling for that precious yardage which is needed for a first down. Below left, Shannon Roach kicks for the extra point after one of the Sophomore's touchdowns. Greg Garcia is dodging the tackles in a touchy ground play through the middle of the line, below right. Middle Left are the centers and linemen. Standing left to right, Elbert Grayson, #61, Robin Duva, #64, Mike Stringfield, #62. Bottom row, Bart Reddes, #57, Dana Sandoval, #55, and John Vega, #51. Lee Shaffer is trying to shake off an opposing tackler in the middle right photo. Bottom left, Esther Roman and other faithful fans are there to cheer on the Sophomores. Keith Whitam and Greg Garcia return the ball on the kick off in the bottom center photo. Freshman, Randy Cawthon and Denise Grove watch the game from the stands in the bottom right photo.

Super Sophs. lead the way to "victory"

Once again the Mid-High Sophomores have had a terrific season. They ended up with a very good 8 wins and 2 losses record, only losing to Roswell, and by a narrow margin to Silver City. The Sophomore class of 80 has lost only three games in the past three years and their future looks even more promising as they begin their junior and senior years in football. The Sophomores ran up a total of 182 points this season while their opponents managed to score 80 points against the Sophomores. With a record like this the future looks bright for the state champions to come from Alamogordo.

CJH	6 - 43 "B"	Alamo Freshmen
Goddard	6 - 33	Alamo Freshmen

Once again the Alamogordo Freshmen Football Team has gone undefeated. They are first in their district and this is the second time in the last three seasons that they have run off with a perfect record. They have, in fact, lost only one game in the last three years, a credit to head coach Paul Puglise and his coaching staff, John Elmore and Curtis Fortney. The team ran up a total of 229 points on the scoreboard this season and only allowed 40 points to be scored against them.

Above right, Freshman Thad Brown and his teammates signal their first place position with the victory over Goddard. It was a jubilant time on the field as the team was joined by cheerleaders, friends, and parents after the final victory. Mrs. Hamilton, Student Council sponsor, provided the cokes for a celebration in the locker room, after the coaches were given a good shower by the members of the team.

Freshmen tear up the turf for 1490 yards

The Freshmen weren't exactly standing still this year as they managed to total up 1314 yards rushing and passed for a total of 176 yards. It should also be noted that these statistics are for six "A" games only. If the "B" team's stats were added it would be even more impressive

Future looks bright for Freshmen class

With one consecutive winning season after another, the future does indeed look bright for the Freshmen. The students coming after them will have a hard season to follow and these students will hopefully form the basis of yet another winning season for the Sophomores and hopefully, Varsity Football team in Alamogordo.

At right, Dago Gonzales makes one of his spectacular catches of the season. Below left, Jaime Rios takes off down the field. Tackles for the 1977 season are, below right, back row, left to right: Joe Garcia, Charles Price, Vince Melton, and Abdul Mughni. Front row, Alick Mansfield, Randy Whittaker, Johnny Gwynne and Harold Wagner. Randy Cawthon carries the ball while Gordie Mayfield does a little blocking for him in the bottom left photo. Bottom right, Fullbacks are James Garcia, Anthony Johnson and Randy Cawthon.

The clock has run out on the final game of the season as the Freshmen beat Goddard 33 6 in the photo above. Of the five schools that scored on the Freshmen this season only one managed to get in the double figures. All others were kept at eight points or less

The Freshmen Football team comes tearing out of the dressing room after a little half-time pep talk in the photo at left. The Freshmen went on to be the only Alamogordo football team to go undefeated this season. All teams did great but a nine win and no loss record is hard to beat

Preparations begin early for annual Powder Puff Game

It takes a couple of weeks worth of preparation to get ready for the annual Powder Puff Football game between the Sophomore and Freshmen girls. Coaches have to be "talked" into coaching, referees have to be contacted and this year even the Publicity Committee for Student Council made posters for the big game. At right, Alice Navarro and Robyn Thummel make wall posters and signs for the game. They gave up a Saturday afternoon during the first week in November to work on these signs for the game. Opposite page, bottom left, Tony D'Arezzo, Dennis Walker, Carolyn Scott, Alice, Robyn, Annette Flores are all working hard to get the signs painted and up during the two weeks prior to the big game.

Powder Puff Day arrives at last

The big day of the annual Powder Puff Game has arrived at last. The teams and cheerleaders have been practicing for nearly two weeks and the anticipation and excitement has been growing daily. Would the Freshmen be able to overthrow the Sophomores this year? Would the Sophs be able to remain unbeaten. Today would tell the story which team had worked the hardest to win the game

At right, the "girls" deliver various little treats to the Powder Puff team members. Shown here Mike Lowe, Kevin Kern, Keith Taylor and Kil-Hwa Mounce have stopped off at Mr. Hansen's room to deliver the goodies. Below right, our ancient official is again on hand for the third year in a row. The last two years he has quietly saved his energies for talking to the cheerleaders on the bench. This year, however, he did actually do some officiating on the field where this photo was taken. The Power Puff cheerleaders always put on a humorous half-time show and this year was no exception. The "girls" are performing their half-time skit in the bottom photo. The crowds are always an important part of the Power Puff game as the students and faculty members who attend really get involved in the festivities. Opposite page top some of the guys are more into having their picture taken than in watching the game. Opposite page, middle left, the cheerleaders for the day pause in their candy deliveries to pose for some pictures. Scott Mosiman, Robert Sedillo and Dalton Wilson were really into the swing of things for the day. Opposite page, middle right, the kazoo Band waits in the stands prior to making their appearance at the half-time show. Students and faculty members alike watch the game and cheerleaders in the bottom photos. The weather was extremely warm for a November day in Alamogordo. If you recall at this time last year we had played the Homecoming game in the snow. Weather such as this was a welcome change to what we could have had

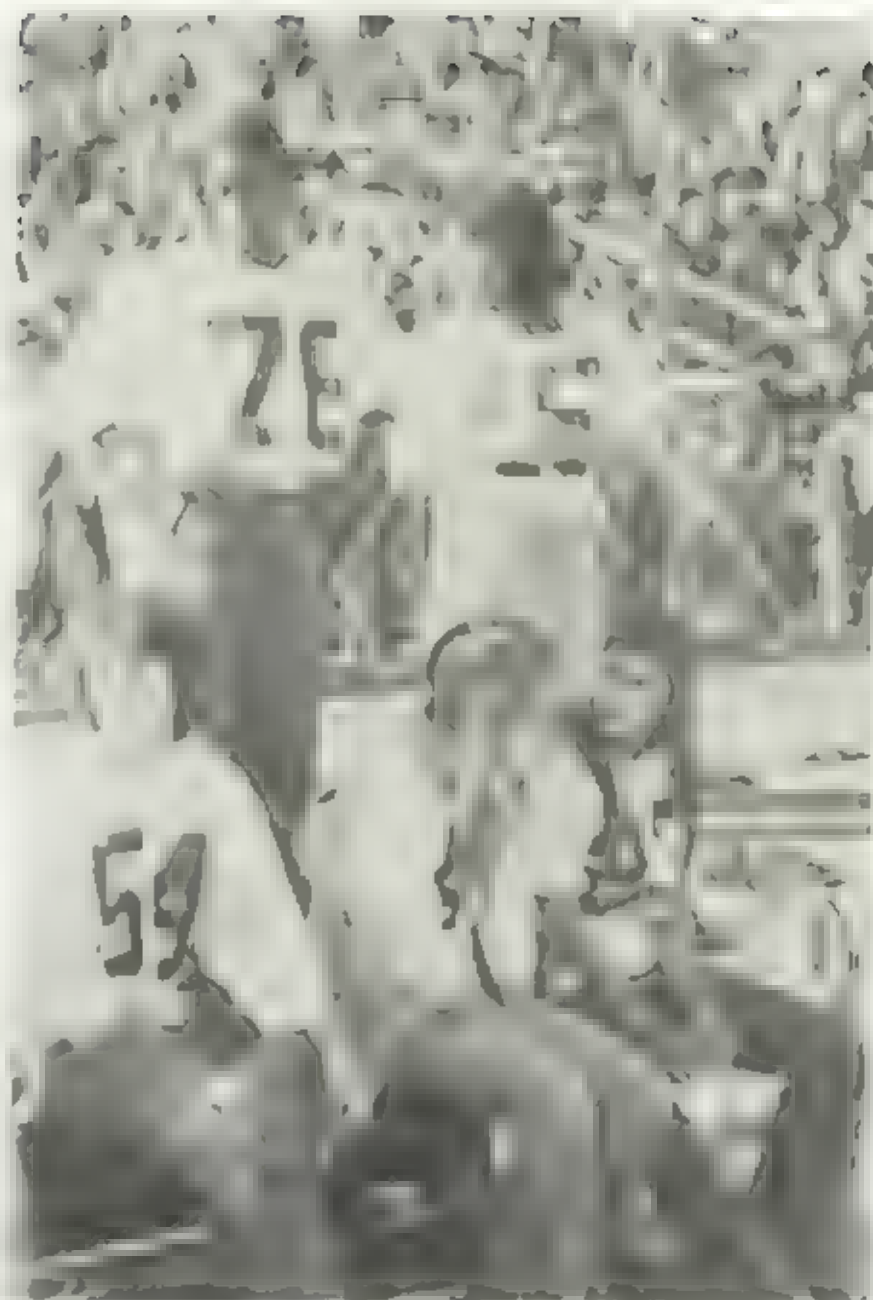

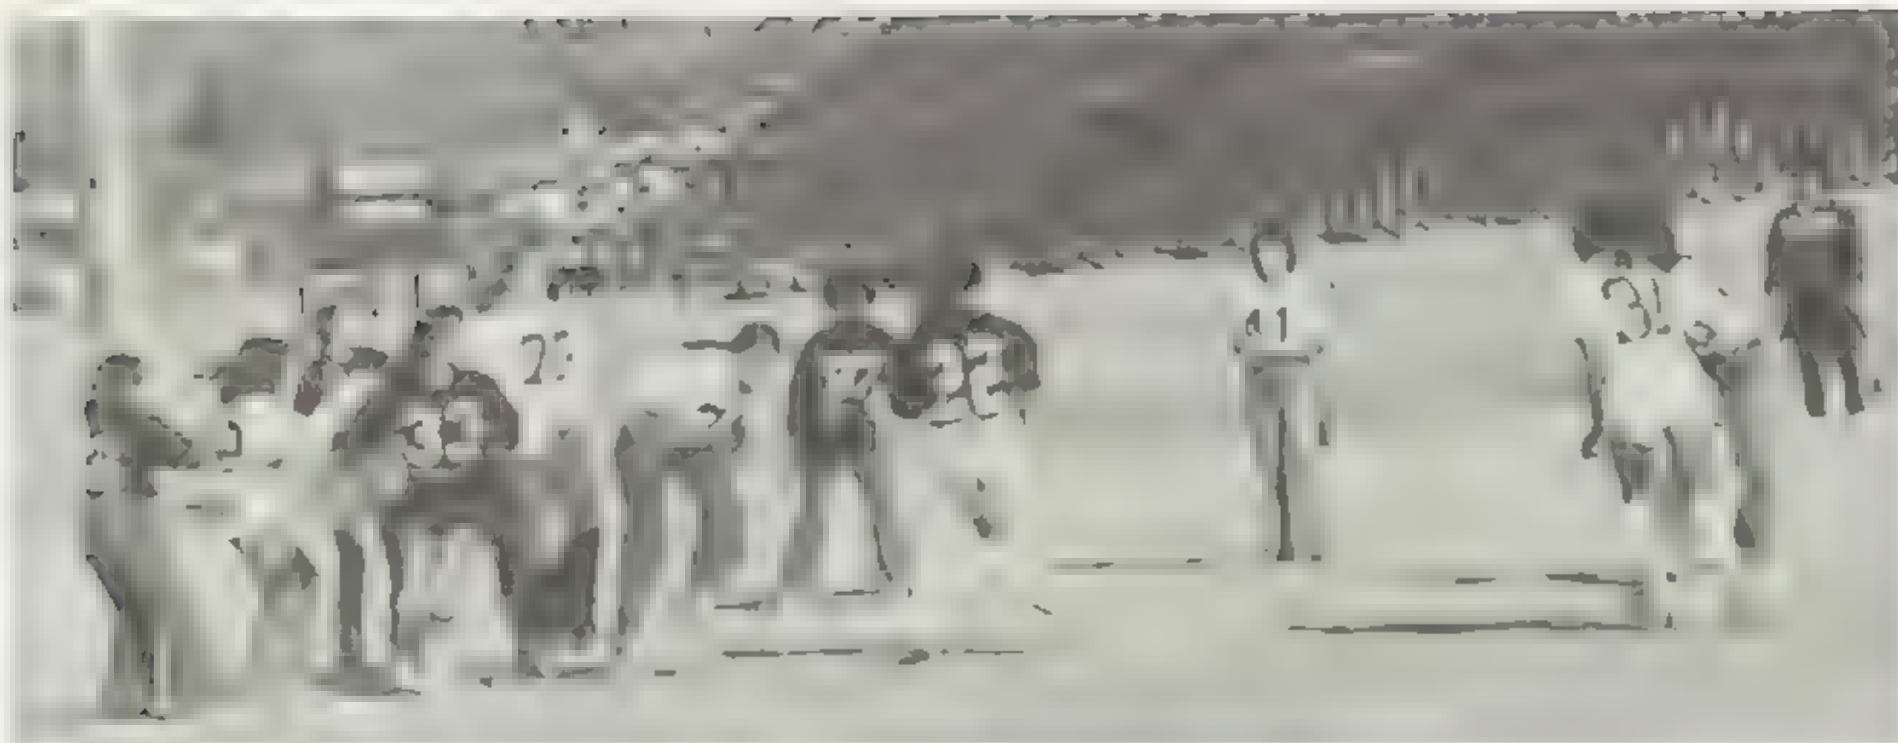

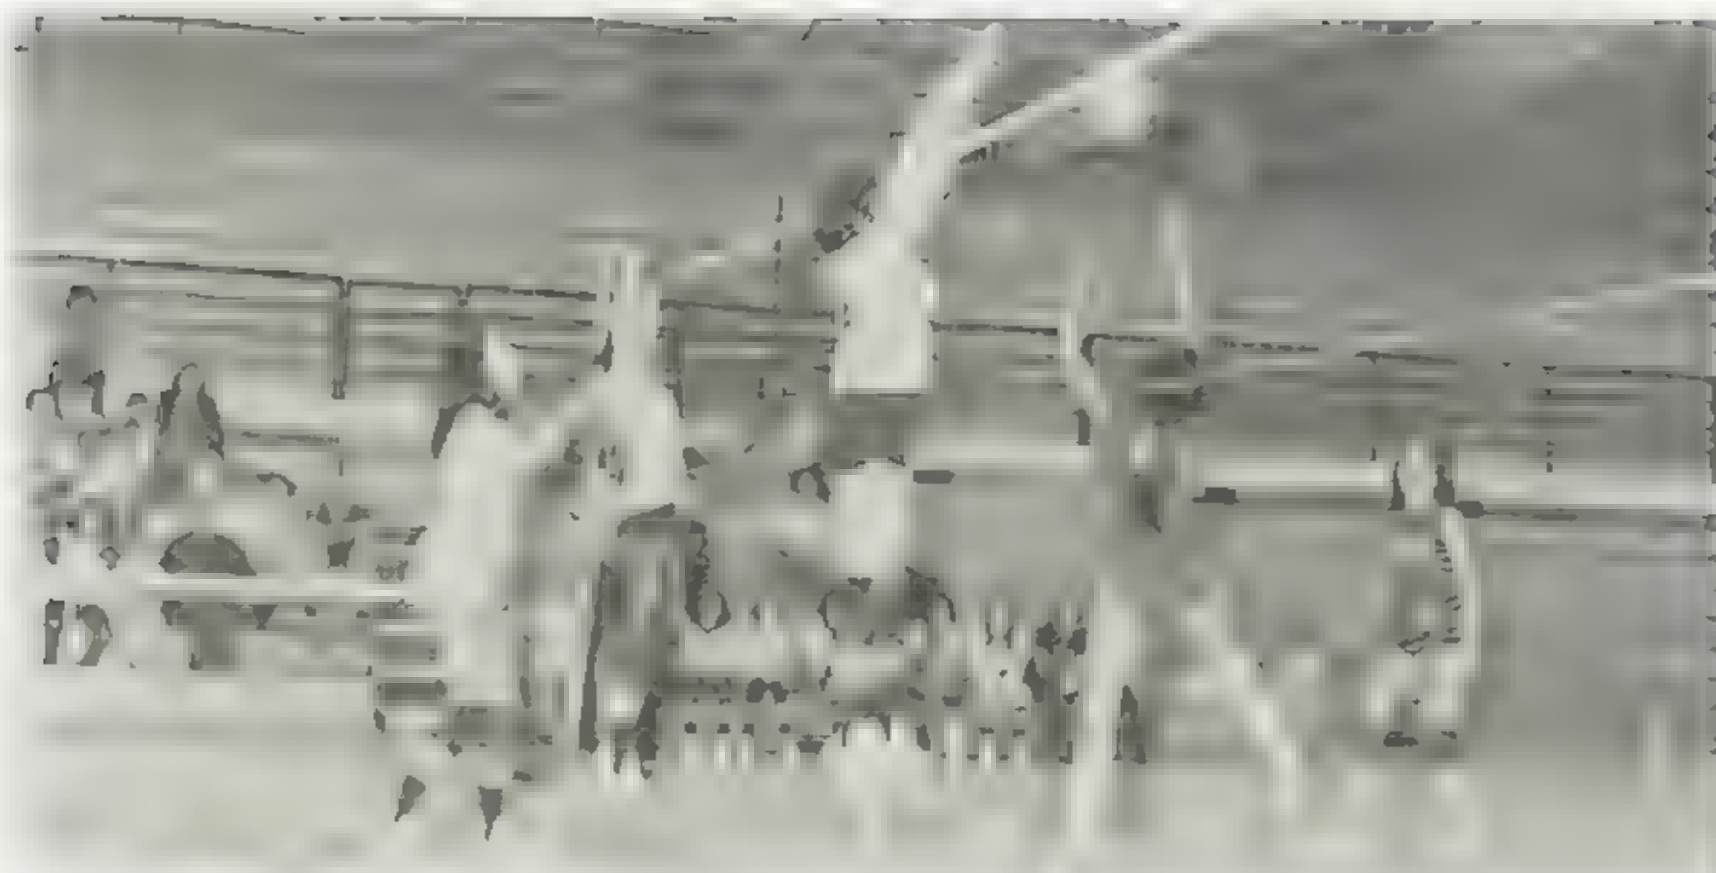

Sophomores take win number seven in '77

For the seventh year in a row the Sophomore girls have proven they are unbeatable as they won the Powder Puff Game with a score of 6-0. The teams were evenly matched this year and the first half went scoreless. But a pep talk to the Sophomore girls at half-time must have helped because with seven minutes and 55 seconds left in the third quarter, Sophomore Davina Bastian made a sixty-four yard run for the only touchdown of the entire game. The Sophomores tried a two point conversion tactic but were stopped by the Freshmen girls. Various other attempts to gain much yardage by either team failed and the game ended with the Sophomores the winners.

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a Power Puff game was on hand for this one. The original game was scheduled for November 18th but the school system was released for a half day so fans could attend the playoff game against Clovis. The Powder Puff Game was shifted to Tuesday and more people attended the game this year, partly perhaps because it was held during the week. About 1144 students bought tickets to the game and the majority of them showed up for it. Everyone involved in the game worked hard to make it a success but we'll just have to wait one more year to see if the Freshmen can pull out a win against the Sophomores.

Tiger volleyball hits it off again this year!!

The Tiger Girls Volleyball Team has had a very good season this year. The Junior Varsity Team had even better luck by winning their first game but Varsity didn't have as much luck on their first game but came back with a second game victory. In the top photo, the girls are all staying on their toes during this tough game. In the middle photo, Toni Irvine is serving the ball and hoping it goes over.

Mid High Freshmen Basketball Team

The Mid High Freshmen Basketball team, under the direction of Coach Delore Martell has been having another reasonably successful year. The weather has not been too cooperative with us, however, and many games have had to be rescheduled and played at later dates due to snow storms.

A new organization was formed at Mid High this year to help raise attendance at basketball games. Cheerleader sponsors, Mrs. Olsen and Mrs. Fortney got the group of interested students together for a couple of meetings and told them the requirements for joining. It wasn't too difficult buy a T shirt, have Bleacher Bum printed on it and attend the games. This way there would at least be someone in the stands for the cheerleaders to cheer to. In the photo opposite page top, there is a good size group of Bleacher Bums in attendance for one of the freshmen games.

This year's basketball team for Mid High School has had a great season but will be hoping for even better things next year. Coach Curtis Fortney has contributed much experience to his team and they in turn have given him the kind of moves and shooting ability it takes to be a winning team. With a combination like this little can go wrong. The team has the height and speed it takes to become winners as they pursue their basketball careers in their junior and senior years of high school

In the top left photo, Richard Slater goes up for the basket while Carlsbad players seem to just stand around. Robin Duva shoots with great concentration in the top right photo. Freshmen basketball team members, Dago Gomzales, Gordon Mayfield, and Chris Padilla watch with Sophomore Danny Hale one of the Sophomore Basketball games. Bobby Miller goes up for a jump shot in the bottom left photo as a Capitan player tries to block his shot. Dennis Walker is surrounded by Capitan players while taking his shot in the bottom right photo. Richard Slater jumps his opponent for the tip off in the opposite page top left photo. Coach Fortney and Anthony Granados talk over a new game plan in the photo, opposite page top right. Shannon Roach slides by a Carlsbad opponent and drives down the court in the opposite page middle left photo as Rick Mayfield looks for a fellow teammate to toss the ball to in the middle right photo on the opposite page.

The Dirty Dozen gets ten wins with only five losses

Although the Sophomore basketball team has given themselves the nickname of The Dirty Dozen, they have come out of this season with a rather impressive record of ten wins against only five losses. They have pulled together and proven that they are not exactly the team that nobody wanted. They should be proud of themselves as individuals and as a team because they are indeed all winners.

Opposite page top left Rick Mayfield waits for a shot on the free throw line and later shoots for two points in the opposite page top right photo. The sophomore team and their opponents congratulate each other on a good game in the middle left and bottom photos on the opposite page. The cheerleaders are there also to wish them their best after the game is over. Coach Fortney and the rest of his team watch the game from the bench in the middle right photo on the opposite page.

From the middle of the Cheerleading Squad a deep voice shouts, "Hey Tigers." It's coming from Yell Leader Tracy Motley. Tracy has worked with the girls this year and adds a new dimension to the squad for the first time in its history. At right, Tracy lifts Kathy Roark into the air at one of the Mid High football games. Managers are also part of the squad to help keep things in order. Working in that position this year at far right are Lori Miller and Sabrina Hamel. In the middle photos, Tracy goes over some of the cheers in a fall practice session in the Mid High Gym and performs with the girls at a half time session at a December basketball game. Tracy works with the girls at a fall football game in the bottom left photo and the girls perform a chorus line routine in the bottom right photo.

SOPHOMORES

Summer is over now school starts

On August 15, 1977, all of the Mid High students registered for the 1977-78 school year. In the photo at right, Ms. Burch, Mr. Clarkson, and a few other teachers prepare for registration day. In the center of the photo below, Mark Motley still waits patiently after the long line. On the opposite page students push their way up to the front of the desk so they can receive their schedules for another rewarding school year.

Registration went well. Everybody found their classes with little trouble, there weren't too many schedules lost and not very many disagreements. It seemed like everybody was anxious to come back to school and renew friendships. There were many new students this year, approximately 200, and about 1006 students reregistered. With such a good start we knew this year would be a success also.

Mid-High displays Arts at County Fair

The County Fair fans were quite impressed by some of the fine works of art the Mid-High participants contributed. Entrants were each trying to receive first, second, third, or honorable mention prizes.

In the crafts section, there was a variety of items entered in another effort to win one or more prizes. The first prize in the overall competition was a well deserved compliment to a sculptor. The winner was a clay model of the head of Fu Manchu, a Chinese scientist who discovered the potion of eternity and used his undeveloped formulas on human guinea pigs. The ribbon went to Aristeo Rosales.

Most students were well pleased with the judges' decisions for the prizes. This was an exciting, refreshing experience at the Fair, and the crowd proved it. There seemed to be quite a bit more fair fans roaming the premises throughout the weekend this year than did last year.

We've Got Spirit! Yes we Do!

Spirit was the name of the game at the first pep assembly of the 1977-78 school year. At right, Tracy Motley showed us his stuff as the first male yell leader in the history of Mid High School. This is something that the cheerleader sponsors, Mrs. Olsen and Mrs. Fortney have wanted to do for some time, but they hadn't been able to find anyone brave enough to give it a try. After much persuasion, Tracy agreed to see what he could do to give spirit a little boost. Tracy brightens up the assemblies with his megaphone and great personality. Jerri Austin and Laurie Menefee present one of this year's new cheers on the opposite page.

We knew by the spirit shown throughout the student body that this year would be a great success. We started out with a roar and kept it going the whole school year.

Commitment

Commitment The words of the 1977-78 Student Council. This year's Workshop was a big success for every one included. Officers and representatives from Mid High and the Officers from Chaparral participated in the all day workshop.

The workshop was divided into three sessions. Background and Organization of Student Council, Parliamentary Procedure, and Qualities of Leadership and Student Council Involvement. Opposite page, left Anthony Johnson and Kevin Kern discuss Session I and how well it went. Opposite page right, Robyn Thummel, Todd Tuttle, Esther Roman, Alicia Navarro, Brenda Elliot, and Anthony Johnson go over Session II. Alamo Mid High Twirlers are the best

Mid High twirlers for the 1977-78 school year are Freshman Elizabeth Luna and Sophomore Mary Gshwind. These girls have been twirling for some years and are under the direction of Mrs. Susie Hightower. Elizabeth Luna, opposite page right, has competed in the State Fair and placed second. She hopes to continue twirling in the years to come

Mary Gschwind, opposite page left, has been twirling for some time now. Mary wants to continue on twirling for the High School next year, and hopes to bring more spirit to Mid High

Mary and Elizabeth, at right, have contributed lots of spirit to Mid High and hope to be successful in the years to come! The two together have made Mid High a neat place to be. Mary and Elizabeth have spent many hours practicing their routines performed in front of the whole student body. Mid High is lucky to have such active girls contributing their enthusiasm to such a great school!

Mid High Chorus sponsors Choral Clinic

On October 8, 1977 Mid High sponsored a choral clinic for chorus members from Alamogordo, Deming and Las Cruces schools. The school system invited Ms. Ginger Covert, bottom right, from Mesa Junior College in San Diego, California to serve as clinician.

Ms. Covert taught the singers a few helpful breathing exercises prior to having them all go through their songs. The participants, at right and opposite page, were very grateful for all the help that they received. As the day came to the final hours, Ms. Covert helped the singers who are competing in the All State Competition for this year.

Dr. Shields speaks about Human Genetics

Dr. Lora Shields, at right, came to Mid High School to present the Biology Department with facts on human genetics. Dr. Shields, a Professor at Highland University, spent October Seventeenth and Eighteenth talking to the students about the defects and happenings of Mongoloids, and these many kinds of cases. She talked about all kinds of gene and chromosome combinations. Dr. Shields, opposite page bottom, prepared a film loop to present us with this important section of Biology

Opposite page top, Rick Mayfield, Keith Witham and Mike Garrett are absorbed in the lecture that she gave. The class was extremely large which made it difficult for Dr. Shields to be heard by all, but with the help of the class, she did very well.

Mrs. Olsen and the rest of the teachers from the Biology Department were very grateful for the time she spent at MHS. Both teachers and students benefited by this discussion.

Cheerleaders bring home the door prize

The Freshmen may have had a perfect season, but the cheerleaders have got something they haven't. After one of the games in Roswell the team visited a local car bash. They took turns pounding an old car, while the girls cheered them to victory. After some time, still not succeeding to pound off the door, the coaches decided it was time to go home. When the football players left, the cheerleaders stayed and finished the job. They brought home the door and presented it to the team the following Monday morning.

The door, at left, was exhibited in the main foyer. Opposite page, several curious people, not knowing just what to make of the whole situation, pause and take a look at the door.

Drama students practice skits

Drama students displayed various skits during classtime. At right are Bruce Abbott and Kathy Roark performing, Sweet Charity, a story about two people who were innocently stranded on a stalled elevator. Roark plays a girl trying to calm Abbott, a claustrophobic, and later is attracted to him and tries to woo him. Opposite page top, Laurie Memefee and Cheryl Louder perform in The Miracle Worker, the story of Helen Keller. Opposite page center, Scott Galloway and Marsha Meyer are appearing in 6 Rms Riv Vu, about a couple searching for an apartment. Last, on opposite page bottom, is Mark Carter starring in No Time for Sergeants, this story is about a grandfather with a shotgun trying to protect his grandson from the draft.

Bowling Club has a ball!!

Mr. O'Boyle is once again the sponsor of the Bowling Club. The club meets every Thursday after school at the Red Rooster Bowling Alley. Once a year the students challenge the teachers of Mid High to a bowling contest. Some of the faculty members show the students how it should be done. Opposite page left, Mr. O'Boyle checks out the lane carefully before throwing the ball. Perfect strategy makes a perfect strike! Opposite that she just missed the alley and threw one of those famous gutter balls.

Now it's the students turn to show the teachers how it's done. At left, Cindy Moss cheers herself on after her first big strike. Below, Teri Haltmar watches closely while the ball rolls down the alley, waiting to see if her efforts will be rewarded with a strike. Students and faculty alike enjoy the after school event

The speech club is sponsored by Mrs. Jane Goodrich who commended the members for a fine job. She has sponsored the club for several years and her speech students have always brought home many trophies and awards. Many of the seniors who have brought back awards for their fine job began their speech career with Mrs. Goodrich.

Dr. Balk discusses evolution of mammals

The Biology classes have been entertained by various professors this year. They have learned about birth defects and other disorders that man is subjected to. One of the speakers this year was Dr. Christine Balk, opposite page top, from New Mexico Highlands University in Las Vegas. She came to Mid High for the purpose of lecturing to the Biology students on the evolution of mammals. Dr. Balk graduated from John Hopkins University, as a professor of Geology. She is now working at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology at Socorro. Dr. Balk is so knowledgeable of her subject that while at Mid High, she finished only about one third of the material that was prepared for the students.

Future gourmet chefs train at Mid High

The training of gourmet chefs is usually done at such schools as the Cordon Bleu in Paris, London, or New York. We don't have a branch of these schools here but the Home Economics Department at Mid High does its best to produce some future chefs.

Roles are changing in the 70s and many young ladies are learning the fundamentals of a car engine while some of the guys are learning the rudiments of cooking. During the past few years more and more guys have taken the Elementary Foods class offered at Mid High. When these photos were taken, Shannon Roach and Steve Diehl were learning how to prepare vegetables from Jana Chapman while Dolly Curtis and Pat Gillespie enjoy the fun of watching them. Opposite page top, the girls are learning to make something exotic and take time out to pose for their picture. Opposite page bottom, the boys can't seem to figure out why their dinner didn't turn out correctly and wonder why they even bothered to take this class.

Industrial Arts works on patio

One of the projects that the Student Council has been trying to get finished for a number of years was the patio behind C Hall. Various clubs have donated money to purchase a block of cement and as time passes, the patio is finally getting filled in. Mr. Cook's Industrial Art Classes have taken the project of trying to get it completed before the cold weather sets in. In the photo at right, cadet teacher, Paul Swinford and Marvin Brown dump the concrete from the mixer as Rueben Lucero and Marvin Level it out in the bottom photo. Faculty feasts on cider and apple strudel

Once again the Annual Staff and Student Council sponsored the morning coffee for the hard working teachers of Mid High. The coffee is held during American Education Week and the School Board is also invited to visit with everyone. Top right, some of the board members are discussing how they are enjoying all the goodies. Bottom right, Dave Newell is talking with some of the students about Mid High and asks how they like being part of the school. Opposite page, teachers are relaxing before they have to go to first period. Students are enjoying all that they can before they have to go face the teachers. Hopefully it will not be too tough of a morning since everyone is too full to work.

Robin Hood's Hoods

Many a Maid Marian was at the scene for photos this morning, and there was a great amount of expertise around the targets. At right are the words of caution, "STOP! Archery class in session." In the bottom photo opposite page, Mrs. Irwin is making sure the young ladies do not get carried away with their instruments of lances. Opposite page top left the women are preparing their weapons getting all in readiness for an effort to hit the bullseye, and at the draw, the immense hiss of the arrows' flight toward the target is a heavenly sound.

Opposite page top right, Esther Roman prepares to draw her weapon through the shaft anchor and at long last release her arrow forth. It is telled unto its unswerving heavenly straight and narrow path toward its piercing destination. Esther, in her Robin Hood cap, is in high hopes for a bullseye, a wishful hope.

Have you ever heard of a donut

Mr. Hansen was in one of his good moods when he decided to have his annual donut test, even though he knew that it would be a little bit messy. At bottom, the class presents their mouth watering donuts and are anxiously waiting to get started. At right, Sharon Spring shows her enthusiasm on having a donut test, while the other girls decided a crummy test would be fun. Mr. Hansen got a kick out of the girls interest in the test, even though the boys were pigging out on their donuts. Kenny Weitzel devoured 20!

Opposite page, the original salute to the donut world was displayed by the students of Mr. Hansen's class. Other than a few messes Mr. Hansen's "crummy" class made the donut test a big success!

Are the Biology teachers becoming scarce?

After one quarter of the year, it seems one of the Biology teachers quit his classes. That was the third teacher in the past two years who had deserted his classes because he couldn't hack it. After he left, the other teachers decided they would get a person who could handle any situation that may come up. It seems the new teacher is an all-round expert in most any situation. Just before she was asked to come and teach, "Skinny Minnie" as she is affectionately called by the class had been coming in from a ride out on the range for a little grub stake. At left Minnie takes over Mr. Sisneros' class. Opposite page, Minnie discusses what experimenting with DNA does to your body, after all look what it did to hers.

Who enjoys lab more Mr. Maxwell, or his students?

At right, Mr. Maxwell has his class working steadily while he tests their concentration with his villian act. As far as Jo is concerned she is anxious to finish her lab sheet. Their lab consists of identifying organisms in a substance displayed on a slide through a microscope.

Opposite page left, the villian attempts to explain the instructions on the lab sheet to Jo and her partner. He shows them how to adjust the microscope to the proper sitting distance

Opposite page right, Donald Hieltt works quickly on his lab sheet in order to get it accomplished in time before it is to be turned in completed. Meanwhile Cindy Smith puts her last minute touches on her paper before she hands it in to Mr. Maxwell for a grade. Mr. Maxwell has been teaching here for about three years now and has become a well known teacher at Mid High. He has contributed a great deal to the Biology Department

Football doesn't always end with the season

Lunch time is usually a time for eating, but in the case of the Cowboys it is a time for letting off steam and playing football. The Cowboys break up into teams and have a rousing game in front of the library everyday during lunch. This group of cowboys aren't associated with the team from Dallas but they seem to have just as much fun and enthusiasm involved in their games

Frosh Football Awards Banquet

A special awards banquet was held for the Freshman Football team on November 9th. At right are some of the boys receiving the awards, while below, Coach Hveem discusses various aspects of the football statistics. The Freshman Team had a staggering record of 9-0, with the "A" team having won 6 games and the "B" team winning 3 games for the record. The food they devoured on the top of the next page was well deserved. Opposite page, bottom photo the Freshmen enjoy some scenes of a few of their favorite plays from one of the games they had previously played.

Womens Rec. Club says, "Badminton anyone?"

The Mid High Womens Recreation Club is a very active one. Badminton is only one of the many sports the girls of the club are involved in. They practice archery and other sports besides going out to sell calendars for the club to help sponsor some of their projects and raise money for trophies. In the photo at right, a member of the Womens Recreation Club, Diana Major shows her form. Mrs. Erwin is the sponsor of the club and in the photo above, she gives the girls a break, even though they might need the practice. You can tell how well they play on the opposite page, as Theresa Lewandowski, Joan Moore, Janice Dale, and Terri Dudley, try their hand at badminton. It seems to be a pretty good hand.

Mrs. Erwin is a Sophomore P.E. Teacher at Mid High and is very enthusiastic about physical fitness. She is liked, not only by the girls in her club but by her students as well. She has a good sense of humor and is fun to be around. All the girls in her classes and club have a good time, which helps when you have to do all those back-breaking exercises.

German Club has a fantastic party they will never forget!

Mrs. Iatropoulos, a new teacher and sponsor of the German Club, held a party in Debbie Soehlig's house in honor of the Halloween holiday, and also in honor of a birthday. Terri Martin, in the right photo, is celebrating his sixteenth birthday along with the Halloween celebration. He is seen here, preparing to cut the cake, while his friends, including, from left, Vicki Deaton, Debbie Soehlig, Terri, Diane Thomas, and Jay Ayers, are all waiting to watch him perform this ceremonious event

After the dinner, all the members followed up their instincts and went into the play room, taking off their shoes for a bit of relaxation, saving energy for the festivities to follow, including a game of concentration. When records played, the rather shy and clumsy boys learned to dance

Being in the somewhat spunky mood from dancing, some of the members decided to play a prank on Frau Iatropoulos, and threw a phony spider at her. Naturally, she did the only reasonably logical thing, and jumped, landing on the spider. All in all the party turned out to be a smash

Space Hall of Fame trip turns out to be a success

The Science Ecology Club took a field trip to the Space Hall of Fame, which turned out to be a lot of fun and very educational. Above, the club poses for a picture in front of the Space Hall of Fame. At right, their tour guide, Pam, did very well leading the students through the Space Hall, and explained everything thoroughly. Opposite page top, a few of the club members were taking a look at a communication satellite while, opposite page bottom, the students check out the spaceship turbine, and study how it worked. Afterwards they had lunch at McDonalds, and Mrs. Rentsel and Mrs. Olsen had their diet lunches in the van.

Annual Staff works hard one Saturday as balloon cruises by

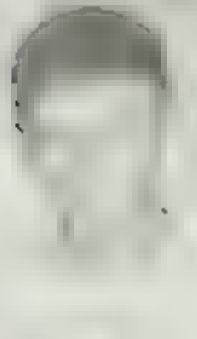

On November Fifth the Annual Staff was working hard to bring you the best annual ever when Scott Way and Mike Richards came rushing in and said, "Hey there is a big orange hot air balloon outside." So we all went rushing outside and someone grabbed a camera and sure enough a big beautiful orange hot air balloon was slowly drifting across the big blue western sky of Alamogordo. It was a beautifully warm day and we were able to get a bunch of terrific pictures of the balloon as it slowly drifted by the Alamogordo Mid-High School. Then Scott and Mike grabbed a camera and jumped in Mike's car and took off to get some closeups of the beautiful balloon. The hot air balloon was giving some of the students from the New Mexico School for the Visually Handicapped a short ride around Alamogordo and they couldn't have picked a better day. The Annual Staff was working on this Saturday in November to meet our November deadline. The staff worked from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm with a short pizza lunch break and a short look at the hot air balloon. The staff watched the large balloon drift slowly away and then we were off to work again.

The Optimist Garden Club judges doors

The Optimist Garden Club sponsored the door decoration contest this year. At right are the judges beginning at left are Mrs. William Folen, Mrs. Cecil Green, and Mrs. Irving Jacobs. The three judges went from door to door and did their best to pick a winner and after about two and a half hours a winner was chosen. Opposite page bottom is Richard Williams as Santa and Shelia Moroni on his lap. Below and opposite page top are pictures of a couple of the better doors. The teachers and their students have been decorating their doors in this way for several years and they seem to have a very good time doing them.

Christmas door winners are told

Shouts of joy arose from Mrs. Blume's fourth period class as they were announced the Grand Champion and first place winners of the Christmas door contest. In the two photos at right, the winning doors are pictured. Mrs. Blume's class used two doors this year to capture the prize. Room 37 took first place in the traditional category in the photo at bottom right. Opposite page bottom left, an angel and lamb won first place in the religious category for Room 203. Mrs. Autrey's door took first place in the Southwestern category with two small Indians and a rainbow helping out. Her door is shown opposite page bottom right

Mid High Bands perform in concert

On Tuesday, December 6, at 7:30, in the Mid High School gym, through the direction of Mr. Nichols, the Mid High Bands put forth some brilliant performances. The Symphonic Band played, Golden Eagle, a concert march by Harold Walters; Scotch Folk Suite, arranged by Albert O. Davis; the latter featured solos in the Auld Rob Morris movement. Two movements, Loch Lomond and John Anderson, completed the Scotch Suite. The band concluded by playing an Alfred Reed number, Imperatrix-Overture, and Noel, a Christmas medley arranged by Hawley Ades featuring some beautiful melodies by the brass and woodwinds. The Concert Band played Patrol Seventy-six featuring the flutes by Carol M. Butts, Danya Espanola, by Mortiz Moskowsky, and the last number was, An Old English Christmas, a medley arranged by James Ployhar.

Variety show is given before holidays

A Pre-Christmas variety show was held on December 16th. The chorus students and the Speech Club presented various songs and skits for the enjoyment of all. At right, Mrs. Wilson dances with one of the chorus students during one of the dance numbers, while below, the chorus sings a medley of the songs they presented at a Christmas Concert the evening before. Traditional holiday carols were also sung during the hour long concert.

One of the better skits the Speech Club presented was called The Day in the Life of a Piece of Bubble Gum. Tracy Motley began the skit by sticking a piece of gum to the wall. The rest of the skit involves what happens to that piece of gum during the rest of the day. Opposite page top, the gum has been removed and stuck to a bench on which Kim Mieras is sitting. Opposite page bottom, as the skit comes to a close, Tracy returns to the wall to find that his gum is still where he left it.

The Christmas holidays brought out the best in people and parties

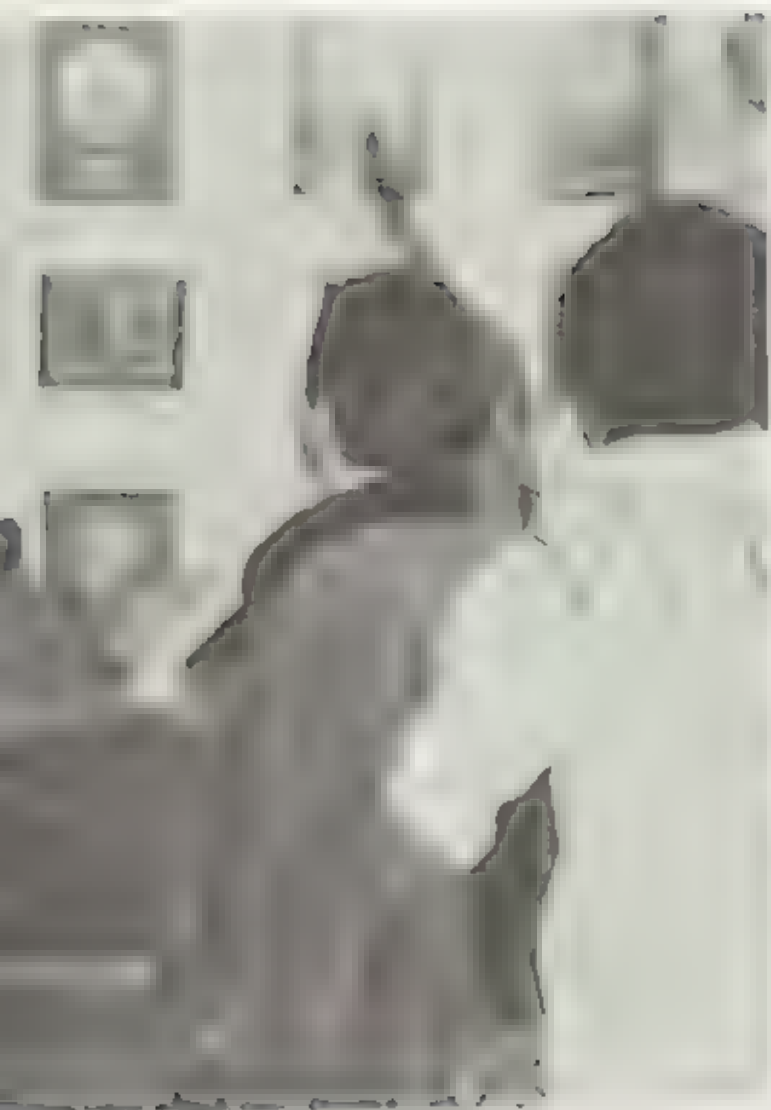

Party fever spread through Mid High during the Christmas holidays with good humor and lots of fun not far behind. At right, Mrs. Linda McAlister celebrated a birthday with the students of her chorus classes in November. Opposite page top, Sam Swann displays his enthusiasm for parties while joining in the Science Ecology Club Christmas party with sponsor Mrs. Reitzel. Below, the Ceramic Club Christmas party went over big. The party consisted of lots of good food to eat with a few good laughs and a little dancing as well. In the photo below, invited guest Lance Coates and member Yvonne Baca share a good laugh before digging into the food. In the opposite page bottom photo, Mrs. Blume and her students celebrate their victory in the "Deck the Door" contest with a visit to the Mid High concession stand

Clubs sponsored several after school Christmas parties before the big two week break and these events were enjoyed by all. It's nice to be able to get together with friends before people separate for the holidays.

Pro writers come to visit Mid High club

Creative Writing and Arts club is entertained by many guest speakers. Mrs. Cooley and Mrs. Autrey keep the club on their toes by bringing in not only interesting but knowledgeable writers and free lance photographers. Aola Vandergriff, opposite page top, a noted novelist came to speak to the club during November. She lives with her retired husband near La Luz. She has won the women's writing award for the year. Mrs. Vandergriff is also best known for her Gothic novels. Another speaker was Arther Sidofsky, at right and opposite page bottom, a professional writer and free lance photographer. Mr. Sidofsky came here from New York to do an article on sand surfing.

Swing your partner

Almost anyone can do the hustle or the bump or jump to the beat of the latest disco sound. But at Mid High it takes a little more concentration to do-si-do and circle around your partner. These moves and many other unfamiliar terms are just part of the square dancing section of physical education at Mid High. During the colder winter months in Alamogordo the Freshmen all move indoors and learn a little old fashion style dancing. It may be old fashion to some but if you are a member of the cowboy group at Mid High this type of dancing goes on almost any weekend at the Wade Memorial Building on the fairgrounds.

Shown in the photos on these pages, students participate in the dancing section with some enthusiasm. Most would probably rather be outside playing baseball or soccer but it won't be that long until spring.

Super Bowl fever comes to Mid-High

Super Bowl mania arrived at Mid High this year not long after the Christmas vacation was over. Students had been back in school a full week and people were looking with casual interest toward the big game on January 15th. On Monday, January 9th Business Teacher, Mrs. Estelle Rollings put up some bright orange butcher paper on her door with the word "Denver" over it. Paper appeared on the other door with the word "Dallas" over it. Fans could sign the paper of their choice and soon the rivalry was going hot and heavy and students signed their names for the team they were sure would win.

At night, by the end of the week the "Dallas Door" had been signed up with very little room for any more fans. Opposite page, Ray Silva and Freddie Garcia stand by the "Denver Door." They helped get the paper up and the ball rolling by signing the door of the team they hoped would win the Super Bowl.

As history now reveals the Dallas Cowboys beat the Denver Broncos 27 10 and half the fans were elated with the outcome. Here at Mid High the spirit and enthusiasm shown by Mrs. Rollings and the Mid High students helped an otherwise slow week to pass with a little more fun and interest in the outcome of a football game.

Canceled due to snow

Winter finally arrived in Alamogordo! We thought it may miss us this year but on Tuesday, January 24th the snow started falling and looked like it wouldn't quit. After some deliberation, school was finally dismissed at 12:15 but as usual, Mother Nature knew best and by 3:00 p.m. the snow had not only stopped falling but was also melting fast. When these photos were taken during second period, it appeared as if we were in for some real winter. Since that time area storms have forced the cancellation of numerous basketball games and they have had to be rescheduled. Students on the opposite page frolic in the snow as couple of inches accumulated on the ground. The rest of the country is covered with the stuff but we enjoy a few flakes every now and then.

The National Junior Honor Society at Mid High is one of the more active groups around. They and their sponsor, Del Hansen are always planning some project or activity for the group to be involved in. Last year they planned an Almost Anything Goes day and donated the proceeds of the contest to a worthy cause. In early October, the NJHS Took a trip out to White Sands National Monument for a fun day. At left, Mr. Hansen, Robert Thomson, and John Austin enjoy a short break after a wild game of football in the sand dunes. Mr. Hansen's team got wiped out 8 games to 2 when they played volleyball. On the opposite page bottom left, Mr. Hansen discusses the bowling scores with members of his team when the NJHS challenged the Bowling Club to a contest. Orchestra performs in concert before holiday break at Christmas

The instrumental music departments of Alamogordo Public Schools joined forces this year to present a joint concert. The holiday season would hardly be off to a good start without the annual Christmas concerts presented by the Alamogordo Senior High School Symphonic Orchestra and the Senior High School Bands.

The concert was held December 13, 1977 in the Senior High School Gymnasium. The Symphonic Orchestra was the first to perform under the direction of Mr. Roger Woodle. They performed two classical pieces and two more contemporary works by Leroy Anderson. The concert for the evening included Shepherd King, Fiddle Faddle, Heart Wounds and Sleigh Ride. At right, Miss Cynthia Fellows, a student teacher for Mr. Woodle, conducts the orchestra as they performed during the evening. Mid High and Senior High school students are shown in the other photos as they performed during the evening as Mr. Woodle conducts the final number of the concert in the photo at bottom right.

Tiger Bands finish holiday concerts

While the marching season was over the work still goes on for members of the Tiger Bands. The orchestra had finished its part of the concert and with a shuffle of chairs the bands took the floor to finish off the evening's concert. The Concert Band moved in first and performed four numbers including March The Southerner, Blessed Are They, and God of Our Fathers. As they completed their part of the program the Symphonic Band took over and did First Suite for Band, Epimicion, and Slavonic Rhapsody.

Members of the bands are seen in various photos on this page as they perform selections of the evening's program. Band director Jim Young is shown in the lower right photo as he discusses one of the numbers the band will perform. The gym was filled with appreciative parents and friends for the concert performed just before the Christmas holidays.

Choirs perform in Christmas Concert

The magic of the holiday season is always enhanced by the music department of Mid High School. The students work for many hours to perfect their skills and top it off with the annual Christmas concert. At left, Tom Irvine accompanies the Select Mixed Choir with the chimes during the song He Came Here for Me. Below left, the students of the Select Mixed are absorbed in another selection, entitled Christmas Carol. The men's choir, just below, are being accompanied by two clarinetists during one of their songs called Glory to God. The two clarinetists, Andrea Martinez and Susan Nicholas, both chorus students, prepared for this concert with many hours of practice. The select women's choir, shown in the bottom photo, are doing a fine job singing one of their better songs called Ave Maria.

The Christmas concert also consisted of a mass women's choir singing Silent Night and Carol of the Bells. The Mass choir concluded the concert with a very powerful finale. The Lord's Prayer was sung and the choirs finished their performance with the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah.

1978 Annual Staff

As the Mid High Annual becomes technically superior with each volume published, the demands made upon the staff also become greater. As their first experience with working on an annual of this size the staff has no previous experience to rely on and it is a tremendous job for them to undertake. Only those students who worked on the book this year know what a time consuming project it becomes and how hard it is to achieve a good publication. At times it may seem impossible as layouts and ideas have to be redone and reworked. Thousands of photographs have been taken and retaken to be used in this edition. Imaginations have been stretched to the limit to create a lasting memory of the school year and what students, faculty and staff members have done at Mid High.

Staff members who worked on the ninth volume of Tiger Tales are: opposite page, top: Scott Way, Mike Richards, Ann Godard, Aristeo Rosales, and Owen Mortensen. Opposite page, bottom: Alison Jennings, Steve Diehl, and Betty Hall. Above: Susan Roberts and Denise Dyakon; and at left: Chris Arias and Janet West.

Others who must be thanked for their behind the scenes help are: Ms. Joan Boss, our yearbook and creative consultant from Walsworth Publishing Company. Indian sand paintings used on our division pages were provided through the courtesy of The Old West and its owner, Trent DeGiulio. Mr. B. A. Thummel has kept our camera equipment in good working order for many years. Our thanks to these and many others who help make Tiger Tales a success.

Who's Who at Mid High

We have found that students do not get to know many of their fellow students at Mid High School. In an effort to acquaint you with more than just the group you may hang around with, we are including for the second year, a Who's Who section in our annual. This is not an achievement which is earned by outstanding excellence in any one particular field. Students are chosen at random with one student representing each letter of the alphabet. Some of these students are already well known and others may become more familiar to you in the years to come. Here is a random sample of Who's Who at MHS

Rhonda Arone was born in Kansas City, Missouri. She is under the astrological sign of Virgo and plans to go to college to become an astronomer. Rhonda has received honors in band and is working hard to better this year. She has two brothers, Richard and Randy, and likes being Mid High because it is a big change from junior high school.

Tiger Tales 1978

Like the circular sand painting the cycle of the school year is now completed. We started the year as Freshmen and Sophomores and together we end it as a single united student body of Mid High School. For the sophomores their cycle at Mid High is finished and will begin again at the Senior High School. For the freshmen the cycle is only half over and will not be completed for another year.

This year has been like many others, but like each sand painting in this book unique unto itself. Last fall seemed like any other in Alamogordo; but our football teams proved they were better than those in the past and a renewed spirit was born again. As winter hit the rest of the country we basked in sunshine and played the Powder Puff game in seventy degree weather during November. Not having a white Christmas was normal for us but the snow which arrived in January and February was unique to this area. February is the time we begin to get warmer weather again but this year we had to settle for a later spring. But spring arrived at last and summer will soon be here and within a few short days school will be over.
